

Here is a motor trailer by means of which owners of small racing stables can transport their racehorses and save railroad charges.
Wide World.

Mrs. Montgomery Hare, chairman of the metropolitan district for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, is to lead New York women, beginning to-morrow, in the work of raising a fund to endow the Wilson awards for public service.

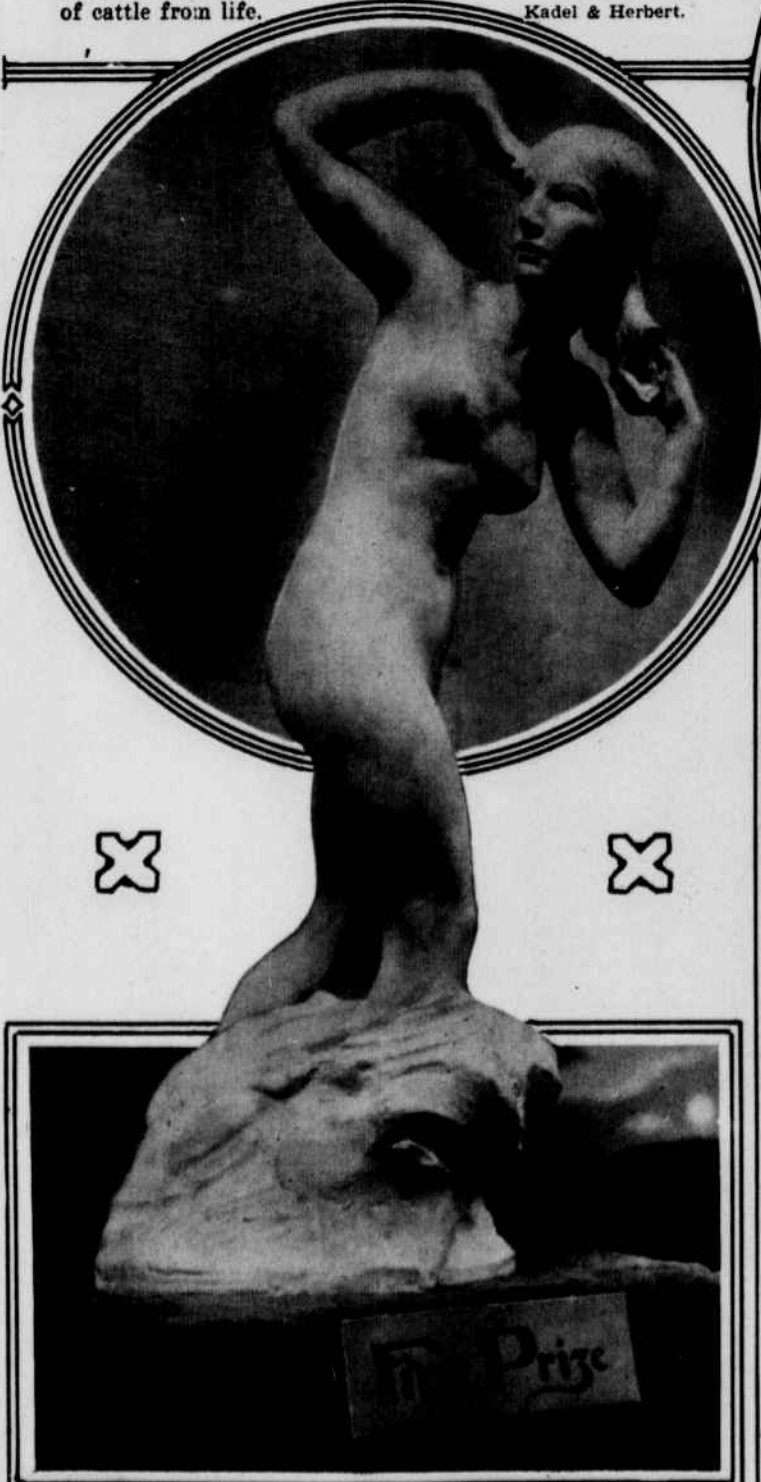

School children in a California prize drawing competition visited a live stock show, where they made drawings of cattle from life.
Kadel & Herbert.

The United States Marine Corps rifle team won a fine assortment of trophies in 1921. They are being looked over in this picture by Brig.-Gen. H. C. Haines (left), Major-Gen. W. C. Neville and Major-Gen. John A. Lejeune.
(c) Underwood & Underwood.

This photograph of Miss Alice Davison, daughter of Henry P. Davison, and Artemus L. Gates was made shortly before their marriage at St. John's Chapel, Locust Valley, L. I. Mr. Gates is a former Yale man and was a Lieutenant-Commander in the naval aviation force in the war.

This attractive work, called "The Surf," by Chester Beach, won first prize for sculpture at the annual exhibition by members of the National Arts Club.
Wide World.

The Russian Grand Opera Company has reached the Pacific coast after a tour starting from Moscow and extending through the Far East. Many hardships were encountered, but the singers hope an extended operatic campaign in the United States will be both an artistic and financial success. The photograph was made aboard the vessel which brought them to America.
International.